If Karen was good at anything, it was writing men off.

She was happily unattached until Mia introduced her to Mario last summer at lunch. Mario was six years younger, and far from Karen's type. Yet, this long haired, sexy, stranger left her intrigued.

Having a man again could be a good thing, now that her single girlfriends were dropping off faster than flies bombed with insect repellent.

Karen was eventually hired to help run Mario's business, and that's when the flirting began. The intrigue remained, but that invisible line had never been crossed. Maybe it was time to step up her game.

A business trip with Mario turned Karen's fantasy into nail biting chaos, showing her that their age difference wouldn't be the only obstacle on her road to relationship bliss.

Intrigue and a Bottle of Merlot is the fourth book in the Like Sisters series. This romantic comedy novel will appeal to fans of chick lit, women's fiction and humorous books. Like Sisters is a laugh out loud series of best friends, hot guys and the right amount of steam to have you anxiously waiting for the next book.

Note: There are no cliffhangers in this series, but since the characters carry over, the books are best read in sequence.
